28th June 2019

Innovation in medicine: ethical and legal issues

Venue: Kaetsu Centre, Cambridge

Call for Poster Abstracts

Background:

The main topic of the UKCEN annual conference this year is Innovation in medicine: ethical and legal issues. The aim of the conference is to provide a programme of interest to health professionals, academics, and members of clinical ethics committees. Clinical Ethics Committees and other elements of Clinical Ethics Consultation, as key elements of good clinical governance and practice, can be instrumental in raising awareness of ethical issues in medicine and in providing practical support for health professionals.

Invitation:

The organisers invite abstracts (250 words) on topics that are relevant to clinical ethics and clinical ethics committees, to be submitted for poster-presentation during the conference.

Formats may vary, e.g. from interesting case histories and reports, empirical studies or audits, theory-based analysis etc.

Students and Trainees are especially encouraged to participate. Accepted abstracts will be published in the conference booklet.
