

UKCEN Pre conference workshop

What makes an effective clinical ethics committee?

Thursday 27th June 2019 13.30-17.00

In conjunction with the UKCEN 2019 Annual Conference

The Kaetsu Centre Cambridge

Aims of the workshop:

- To consider the barriers and facilitators for developing and implementing an effective clinical ethics service in an NHS Trust.
- To explore the role of the CEC in supporting health care professionals experiencing moral distress.

Learning outcomes:

By the end of the workshop delegates should be able to:

- Describe key barriers and facilitators to embedding a CEC in an NHS Trust.
- Identify action points for improving effectiveness of your own CEC .
- Understand the concept of moral distress, and how it may relate to ethical challenges for health care professionals.
- Consider how a CEC can influence policy and practice to reduce moral distress in the health care professionals it supports.

Programme

13:30	Introduction
13:45	Embedding your CEC within the organisation: balancing independence with influence Raj Mohindra Chair UKCEN Board of Trustees
14:15	Facilitated group work: SWOT analysis of a CEC
14:45	Sharing of ideas generated in group work
15:15	Tea
15:30	Moral distress: what is it and why is it relevant for CECs Anne MacNiven: Nursing sister Great Ormond Street Hospital and UKCEN Trustee
16:00	Case discussions: moral distress precipitating case consultation requests
16:40	Report back on cases, workshop feedback
17:00	Close

Please note: Up to five FREE places will be allocated to each Clinical Ethics Committee that is up to date with their subscription to UKCEN. Registration details will be available on our website soon.